

Article: STOOL

Esprit is a stool stackable and adaptable for both interior spaces and for external spaces.

The concept is to offer a collection of products deliberately oriented to the contract sector, but not only, thanks to the versatility offered by the simple lines of its design and its range of colour combinations.

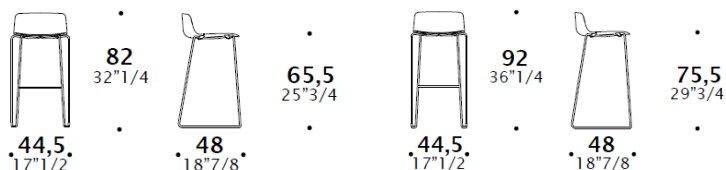

TECHNICAL CHARACTERISTICS

Esprit is a family of stools with bodies in fiberglass reinforced with polypropylene and fitted with a metal rod frame. They can also be ordered in an upholstered version. They are stackable and adaptable for both interior spaces, in the version with the chromed base, and for external spaces in the version with the painted base.

The steel base is available in 65 and 75 cm heights.
